

Lawson Names Henry And White As His Informants

After a Great Deal of Delay Financier Appears Before Probe Committee And Gives His Testimony

WITHHOLDS NAME OF CABINET MEMBER

Washington Jan. 15.—(By United Press)—Thomas W. Lawson told the house lead to Wall Street probe committee that Chairman Henry of the committee was the congressman who told him of the rumors regarding the leak of the president's note to belligerents.

Lawson then named Archibald S. White of the Guarantee Trust company of New York as the banker who had given him additional information.

Lawson's congressional informant he testified last week connected the name of a cabinet member and another high official with the leak.

Chairman Henry's first question called for a categorical answer as to the member of congress to whom Lawson had referred as telling him a cabinet member has been speculating. Lawson asked to be permitted to say a word before answering. "I think it is owing to me to say a few things that are necessary." The committee consulted briefly.

"When things are necessary. There will be other questions," said Henry. "You will have an opportunity then."

Lawson persisted in making an explanation and the committee did not interfere. He recounted who he had asked regarding President Sabin of the Guarantee Trust company.

"He was allowed to go without answering any question," Lawson said. He reiterated his plea of a few days ago that he did not want to give the name in public because the "situation is serious." He appealed to the committee to allow him to give the names in private.

Supreme Court Says Mann White Slave Act Is Valid

Applies In Cases of Non-Commercial Vice As Well As In Cases Where Girls Are Sold In Slavery

DRIGGS AND CAMMETTI CASE IS HEARD

Washington, Jan. 15.—(By United Press)—The Supreme court today held that the Mann White Slave law applied in the cases of noncommercial vice and is constitutional. This decision was reached in the cases of Maury I. Driggs, F. Drew Cammetti and L. F. Hays who were found guilty of violation of the law.

The question before the Supreme court was the constitutionality of the Mann act. Driggs and Cammetti were convicted on the charge of transporting Lola Norris and Marsha Warrington to another state from their homes in California. According to their pleas the Mann law did not apply to noncommercial vice. L. F. Hays was convicted of transporting a girl from Oklahoma City to Wichita, Kansas. His appeal was based on a similar plea. The decision was barely reached. Justice Reynolds did not hear the cases as he was attorney general when the cases were up before the justices who heard the case. Justice White and Justices McKenna and Clark dissented. The case was one of the bitterest fought in the criminal history of this country.

Justice Day read the opinion. Congress, Justice Day said, plainly controls the passengers in international transportation and forbids the transportation of women for immoral purposes. The decision was an unusual long one.

SALE OF REVOLUTIONARY LETTERS

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 15.—Collectors of America are displaying a lively interest in the public sale of the confidential correspondence of Robert Morris, financier of the revolution, which is to begin in this city tomorrow. It is a collection of intimate descriptions made for the personal information and guidance of Mr. Morris by leading statesmen, military and naval authorities and other patriots, concerning various activities for the cause. Eighteen signers of the Declaration of Independence are represented in the collection.

Mrs. R. S. Nightingale of Tunkhannock is spending the afternoon and evening in Philipsburg.

Spannel, Who Shot Major Butler In Jealous Fit, Goes On Trial

Much Interest In Case In South Where Major Was Very Popular With Masses

San Angelo, Tex., Jan. 15.—Harry J. Spannel, who first said he was "glad" and later that he was "sorry," he shot his wife and Major M. C. Butler, U. S. A., to death as they rode through the streets of Alpine in an auto last July, went to trial for murder here today. Strong feeling against Spannel orbade his trial in Alpine.

Jealousy caused by the friendship between Mrs. Spannell and Major Butler is alleged to have led the former music teacher to murder both of them during an auto ride he had in-

POMONA GRANCE HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Domestic Science Comes In For Discussion and is Ably Handled by Several Speakers

MANY RESOLUTIONS PASSED

Clearfield County Pomona Grange held its quarterly session in the Mechanics hall January 11th, morning, afternoon and evening.

The discussion of domestic science teaching, by the ladies, demonstrated their interest and ability to handle the subject. One speaker said that education is not complete without preparation in domestic science and the domestic life depends very much for its success upon the ability of wife and mother as a cook, housekeeper and home maker. Domestic science should be a connecting link between home and school.

Another said it should be taught above everything else. Some foolish mothers don't want their daughters taught to work. There are even cases where foolish girls profess to look down upon one that helps her mother in the kitchen.

Another speaker said that education must mean the ability to solve the problems of life as they come along.

"Our Goal for 1917," was discussed in a paper by Harrison Straw. Cooperation rather than competition; better organization and knowledge of what we want and then stick—that is, stick!

Resolutions were adopted against the state taking local roads out of the hands of supervisors; asking repeal of state sanitary law unless enforced for towns, cities and corporations, as well as for farmers; opposing the fish commission and fishing licenses; asking that increased taxes for state roads be levied on corporate property; that country children should have the same facilities for education as town or city children, and that taxation to make this possible should be state wide, because the life of the towns and cities is, in a great measure, kept up by country boys and girls; urging Congress to pass national prohibition laws. Also by unanimous rising vote, Judge Bell was asked to refuse to grant all licenses at the coming license court.

The evening session was mainly devoted to 5th degree work. Next meeting will be held at Curwensville, April 6th.

Local Coal Shippers Will Hold Meeting

Steps will be Taken to Force Car Supply if Possible

All the local coal men, operators, haulers, etc., will attend a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. this evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of discussing matters to their interest. The local operators of this district are attending to have the railroad company supply refuse cars to the mines who have been refused to supply them. It is taken at this meeting to prevent this being done and they mean the sending of a committee to Harrisburg to take the matter up with the Public Service commission.

EASTLAND SUITS BRING LEGAL TANGLE

Almost Four Hundred Suits For Damages Have Been Filed by Families Sustaining Loss

MAY TRY THEM ALL TOGETHER

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(By United Press)—Although more than a year and a half has elapsed since the picnic steamer Eastland turned turtle at her dock in the Chicago river here and snuffed out the lives of 812 men, women and children out for a holiday, compensation for their deaths has not been made and the suits growing out of the disaster today are in a bad legal tangle.

Surviving relatives of the 812 wage workers who met death on the Eastland are, in many instances, poor people who depended on the earnings of the victims of the disaster. Many of these have had a hard struggle to live since the ill-fated afternoon of July 24, 1915.

Interest in the situation today centers on the question of whether 373 suits for damages, in federal court, shall be consolidated and all tried at once, or tried separately. Federal Judge Bandis must tell the United States Supreme court today why he consolidated the cases and why he thinks they ought to be tried together.

Should the Supreme court order the cases tried separately, as the owners of the Eastland demand, it is estimated that the trials will last fifteen years, allowing a minimum of two weeks for each case. Surviving relatives of about 300 of the victims have not sued at all, while others have brought suit in Illinois state courts.

There is a bill before congress to give the United States court of claims jurisdiction in the cases. This would open the way for the surviving relatives of victims to make claim against the government. Many of them blame the government, through the Federal Steamboat Inspection service for the disaster, but as the government cannot be sued they have no way of recovering damages unless the court of claims is given jurisdiction.

License Court Under Way--Big Crowd In Attendance

Court Making a Record In Disposing Of Many Applications On The First Day of Promising Long Session

THE REAL BATTLES ARE YET TO COME

Old John Barleycorn lined up in the Clearfield county court this morning for a 90-round battle with the Clearfield County Dry Federation, and as the representatives of the contending forces came to the front before Judge Bell, the spectators crowding every nook and corner of the vast court room, straightway saw they were in to witness a gruelling battle.

From the looks of determination on the faces of the dry forces and their attorneys it was plainly evident that no quarter for the demon rum could be expected, while the license applicants and their sponsors, realizing the weak and tottering character of old Barleycorn in the public estimation following his recent knockout blow at the hands of the United States Supreme Court in the Webb-Kenyon decision and the generally accepted idea that about five years more would see the forces of rum driven to the extreme edges of the American continent and quietly pushed overboard for all time to come, appeared to realize the uphill task ahead of them and determined to do their very best toward showing the court that they were entitled to the privilege accorded by law, provided they met the necessary preliminary requirements and so conducted themselves and their business as to not violate that law in any particular, either spirit or letter.

According to the schedule arranged for hearing the different applications Brishin boro, Grampian boro, Osceola boro, Houtzdale boro, Ramey boro, Bigler township, Boggs township, Bradford township, Decatur township, Guilch township, Lawrence township and Woodward township were on the list for disposition first. The remonstrances from these districts totaled 250 men and 180 women, while there are twenty seven applicants for license interested.

Before taking up the list Judge Bell announced that in all cases of new applications he would limit the testimony to four witnesses on each side, while in cases where the necessity as to those now holding licenses were attacked but two witnesses for each side would be allowed. Judge Bell also directed that all briefs, remonstrances and petitions concerning license applications be filed with the Prothonotary for the use of the court in his investigation into the merits of the case. In all cases where violations of the law or alleged ample opportunity would be afforded for the fullest hearing and investigation. His Honor also stated that he could see no reason why the license court should take more than three or four days.

Grampian borough was first on the list. There were two applicants E. J. Smith and George McMullen. Mr. Smith had license last year. Mr. McMullen was called to the witness stand and stated that he had kept his house open and had entertained from one thousand to twelve hundred guests. He had thirty names on his petition for license. On cross examination Attorney Swoope had the witness admit that he had been convicted of violation of the liquor law some two years ago. The hotel register was produced and examined. The applicant ran an auto livery during the past year and was asked whether he had hauled young men under 21 from Grampian to DuBois at different times for the purpose of getting liquor. He testified that he never did so. E. J. Smith was then called. He was asked concerning his bartender. Entertained thirteen people per day for last ten months. Constable visited his house regularly but never furnished him with a list of persons not to sell to. Didn't sell any bottles. Bar averaged $20 per day. Hotel $15 per day. Had to turn people away but once during year. Miller represented Smith. A. Hagerly represented McMullen.

Amount of absence of witnesses in Grampian was questioned until afternoon and Lawrence township was called. Adam Hattenstein, of O'Shanter, was the only applicant. He said he had a license for 20 years. His record showed the entertainment of 1906 guests during the year and served 3853 meals. Had a prohibited list of 22. He was represented by Patterson & Patterson. Guilch township came next. George Fox of Fox & Shuttleworth, of Jannsville, a new application for hotel license, was called. Said his house was 48x60, new building with steam heat, lights, etc. Said building was now occupied as a store. Will contain ten bedrooms, unfurnished and upstairs plastered. One other hotel in the place. Building not leased yet, but thought he could get it, as Shuttleworth now occupied building. House is not furnished for hotel and has no arrangement yet regarding same, but if license were granted would secure and furnish same. Had applied last year and was knocked out because of mistake in advertising. Village population of 1800 with 5500 in township. 100 houses built last five years. No remonstrance filed in this case. W. A. Hagerly represented this license. Andrew Kozak, of Ginter, was next called. He has had four licenses. Had accommodated between seven and eight hundred during year. Bar runs $32 per day. From $85 to $90 on pay day. Had one married on prohibited list. One married on prohibited list. Had 12 bedrooms in same. Record was kept by himself and Judge Bell stated that he had no complaint concerning this license and this was due no doubt to the fact that he was on the job all the time and said if all landlords attended to their business like he did there would be much less trouble from the business. W. A. Hagerly represented him. J. A. Goon, of Woodland, was next called. He said his bar averaged $30 22 per day since taking charge in May. Entertained 1495 guests since that time. Had prohibited list of 28 names. Had great deal of automobile trade during summer; never had any trouble. He was represented by W. A. Hagerly. Bigler township was taken up and Ellis McCracken, Ben Alexander and Henry Bowser were then called. Patterson and Patterson represented the former and Miller & Hartwick the other two. Ellis McCracken was first called. He entertained guests during year. Averaged between $45 and $50 per day. Had prohibited list of 28 or 30. Added 20 past year since he took hold in January last. Didn't have much bottle trade. Ben Alexander was next examined. Had been in business ten months. Had entertained 2000 guests and kept from 14 to 17 boarders. Had prohibited list of 26. Two had been taken off. No treating. Henry Bowser when called said he entertained. Receipts averaged about $50. Bar $30 and hotel part $20. Prohibited list of 21. Added five during year. Didn't allow treating. Frank Belin, of Smoke Run, was next called. He was represented by W. A. Hagerly. Entertained. Bar runs $18 to $20. Averages 5 to 6 meals per day. Prohibited list of eight or ten, three added this year. Twelve beds. Edward Viebahn, also of Smoke Run was next examined. Patterson & Patterson represented this license. Receipts of bar $15 and house part $8 to $8 per day. Prohibited list contains 6 names. Said he was sold out by sheriff last year on account of no business, but wanted license again because town was improving; it was being opened. Saw no true, as but had made change for customers before making sales. When asked whether every man who came in paid for his own drink said he did not know.

Samuel Ricketts, of Jannsville, was called by his attorneys John B. McGrath and Miller & Hartwick. Said there were six or eight hundred in village. Bar averaged $24 per day; one third being from bottle trade. House averaged $5 or $7 per day, with a yearly net profit of $1600. When asked if he thought the house applied for by Fox & Shuttleworth was fit for

STANDING ON ITS MERITS

The following is clipped from the Curwensville Herald:

"The Herald does not ask charity from anybody. This paper does not expect people to patronize it solely because it is a 'home paper' but because it gives the home news as no other newspaper does."

Mr. Bixler has given utterance to the truth. No newspaper or any other institution of a commercial nature should expect charity and ask that favors be thrown their way unless they have earned the remuneration in this manner. Some business men think they are dispensing charity when to their own disadvantage they patronize to a small extent every business of a similar nature there is in the community. The editor of THE PROGRESS was born and raised in Bradford Township but he does not expect the Bradford Township farmers to bring in their pumpkins and other farm produce to carry him over the hard winter. He is doing his best to give his patrons a good, clean newsy paper and asks only the price of description in real cash. If he does not give them a paper that warrants the price it is only right and just that they stop the paper and if it comes to the worst he will apply to the County Commissioners and accept the charity provided for by the law.

THE PROGRESS believes with THE HERALD that they have real value to sell in their publications and will stand or fall along straight business lines.

In addition to giving the people of Curwensville the home news that town is decidedly better by virtue of having a weekly publication of recognized influence along whole home lines.

GLASS OF SALTS
CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of hot water—you can't drink too much; also get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what become of your kidney trouble and backache.

KENTUCKY GOVERNOR SAVES
JUDGE AND A NEGRO

GOV. A. O. STANLEY

Governor A. O. Stanley of Kentucky hurried on a special train to Murray, Ky., when he learned the lives of the judge and the district attorney who had the case of a negro charged with murder postponed were in danger.

"I have come here to uphold law and order and protect this court with my life, if necessary," he told the mob in Murray.

HOUSEMAIDS' UNION PRESENT
DEMANDS TO HOUSEWIVES

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 15.—If housewives here have any maids by dinner time tonight they'll have to recognize the new housemaid's union and change their attitude radically. That's the flat. The maids say so. They said it in writing, too, when they presented their demands today.

The 100 charter members of this, the first domestics' union organized east of the Mississippi river, today demanded $20.00 to $25.00 a month for families of two; $25.00 to $30.00 a month for families of three or more. They demanded a 9 hour working day, one day off a week and time and half time for over time. They wanted good food and well lighted and ventilated rooms.

Not only that, but if children hector them and other unpleasantnesses arise in their daily work, they'll expect to be paid for it. They don't want to listen to too much family quarreling, either.

Disagreeable, unkind and inhumane employers will be put on the unfair list. The organization is to be extended to waitresses, chambermaids, cooks and scrubwomen.

RESURRECTED NEW YEAR
RESOLUTIONS

Horns, confetti, bells and all the other Happy New Year novelties have been tossed aside to the ash heap long ago, but how about the resolutions which looked so glittering and promising on January 1st? How about our vows to live better lives and make the world more beautiful because we existed? Have they, too, found rest in the rubbish heap?

You all made resolutions, I know. That's part of the game somehow, isn't it? Ever since I can remember I have made resolutions on New Year's. As a little child I made a number each year—one was not sufficient. But generally the week-end found them dead things in the dusky past.

This year, as before, I woke up on New Year's with a happy and strange feeling. I wondered for a moment what I was going to do that day that I was so happy. Then in a flash it came to me. It was New Year's, and I had prepared the most wonderful resolutions which I was, of course, going to put into practice for the first time that day.

It was a happy day—oh, so happy! And when I closed my eyes in sleep that night after Mother o' Mine had tucked me under the downy covers, I felt that I was going to be able to keep my resolutions all the year through.

The next day I was still victor. And so on for other days.

Then like a bomb it happened. The day had been unusually hard and my head ached as though it would break. Altogether everything seemed to go wrong, and—I broke my resolution!

The moment I failed in my resolve I was sorry, and all that the purring of my motor engine seemed to say on the way home was, "You've failed!—you've failed!"

By the time dinner was over and I had nestled at mother's feet in the living room, under the glow of our reading lamp, I was so depressed that I could not smile. And in this fact my resolution lay in pieces at my feet, for I had resolved to be glad no matter what happened—to smile no matter what discouraged me.

Mother o' Mine read my thoughts and asked me if I had ever stopped to think that tomorrow was another day, and that I could begin over again 364 times during the year if necessary.

Somehow I had never really looked at New Year resolutions that way before. But the next day I started again, and if I fail I'll begin still again and again.

Will you join me in making every day New Year's as far as resolutions go?

"WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE"

"When Dreams Come True," which has attained much popularity since it was first presented in New York and Chicago, where it ran for an entire season, will be presented here Friday evening at the Opera House.

"When Dreams Come True" is aptly described as a dainty musical comedy of youth, full of tuneful music and catchy songs, many of which will have no doubt already reached you on the wings of popularity. This is one of the best of its type of plays produced during recent seasons. It possesses that rarest of musical comedy virtues—a plot, with sustained interest, and a plenitude of wit and humor of a clean sort. It leaves one with a satisfied, pleased impression and a head full of new tunes.

A large and clever company of principals and a chorus of beautiful singing and dancing girls lend the proper air of youth to the performance. Seats on sale Wednesday.

Choice of Potatoes For The Home
Table and How To Sort Them

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15. — The following suggestions to housewives by home economics specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture are made in regard to the selection of potatoes for table use:

In purchasing potatoes for table purposes, the following points should be kept in mind: First, that smooth potatoes are more desirable than rough ones, because they are more easily prepared, and less loss is involved in the paring. Second, that tubers which have been exposed to light for any considerable period soon acquire a more or less acid taste; for this reason, newly harvested potatoes, if mature, are preferable for the winter's supply to those which have been kept for any considerable period under unsuitable conditions. Third, that very large potatoes are not especially desirable, partly on account of the greater length of time required to cook them uniformly, and partly because they are often very variable in texture. Fourth, a good potato should be firm and crisp when cut, and a thin cross section when held between the eye and the light should show a relatively uniform distribution of starch throughout its whole area, as opposed to a large, translucent, watery, central area which denotes a lack of starch in this portion of the tuber. The even distribution of starch insures greater uniformity in cooking and in texture of the flesh when cooked.

If a lot is not uniform, it is often worth while to sort them and use the large ones with roast meats, or at other times when the oven need not be especially heated, and save the small ones for occasions when quick cooking is more convenient. When the potatoes are very large, or time is pressing, it is often desirable to increase the surface exposed to the heat by cutting them in pieces before cooking, in spite of the fact that this slightly increases the amount of nutrients lost. If they are pared and cut into small cubes or thin slices, they will cook very quickly and may then be creamed, mashed or served in other ways.

THROUGH THE DARK VALLEY

Henry Stockbridge, an Estimable and Well Known Citizen of Curwensville Passes Away

For several weeks the death of Henry Stockbridge has been anticipated by his family and friends but the final end did not come until about seven o'clock Saturday morning, when those of the family gathered about his bedside saw with weeping eyes the vital spark of earthly life depart from its sepulcher.

Henry Stockbridge was born at Byron, Maine on March 5th, 1844, and had he lived until the incoming of March he would have been aged 73 years. Becoming an orphan at an early age, he was reared and educated by an uncle named Cobb, of Lewiston, Me., and lived with that family until reaching young manhood. While yet a young man he left his native state and came to Pennsylvania, stopping in Pittsburgh long enough to take a business course at one of the colleges in that city. He taught several terms of school after that period, and finally came to Philadelphia where he made his home until he came to Curwensville in about 1882. He chose for his help-mate in life a Philadelphia young lady, a Miss Mary A. Waite, whom he married on November 23rd, 1871 and who survives him.

Deceased was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting in Battery A, Seventh Maine regiment of volunteers, October 3rd, 1864, and served his country faithfully until his muster out of service at the end of the war on June 21st, 1865. He was a man who never talked a great deal about war or his record, and for that reason never affiliated with any war veteran societies.

When he came to Curwensville he was employed as a lumber salesman for Samuel Arnold and remained with him until he took a similar position with Hoover, Hughes & Co., who had a large saw mill here at that time. When the mill was removed from here he severed his connection with that company and entered the lumber and feed business for himself, which he carried on for a number of years or until his health forbade his continuance in that line of trade.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use "Grandma's Sage Tea, and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this wonderful mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally, and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

came afflicted with cancer of the throat, which was the direct cause of his death. He had two operations, seeking relief, one in 1915 and the other in 1916, but without avail in a curative sense. For sixteen long weeks he lay about suffering untold agony at times, when the end approached was ready and willing to go. He was a member of no church, although broad minded on religious affairs, but it is not every one who cries "Lord, Lord," the loudest that is saved and the moral life he lived, following the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you," leaves no doubt in the mind but that his soul reached the mansion on high safely. It can be truly said of him that he was a faithful husband and a good father.

Those who survive him are his sorrowing widow and the following children: Fred B., of Pittsburgh; Mrs. J. F. Broome, of Millersburg; Charlie of Gary, Indiana; Edward, of Rossiter, W. B. Annerman, of this place, all of whom were in attendance at the funeral. (Max, another son died on October 20th, 1906.)

The funeral was held from the home on South Side on Monday (today) afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Max Lantz of the M. E. church officiating as principal, assisted by Rev. Cooke, who offered the prayer. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

SPATS

Spats are short violent affairs indulged in by some human beings and most lovers.

They don't amount to much in either case, but they're awful while they last.

Spats usually reach from the ankles to the instep and from the front door to the gate.

They are worn just under the calf and over the protest of every right thinking person.

Some folks naturally have big feet. Others wear pink spats. (Thanks, Kin.)

Baldness can't be helped and stuttering may be condoned, but spats are a man's own fault. (Thanks, George.)

Musterole Loosens Up Those Stiff Joints—Drives Out Pain

You'll know why thousands use Musterole once you experience the glad relief it gives.

Get a jar at once from the nearest drug store. It is a clean, white ointment, made with the oil of mustard. Better than a mustard plaster and does not blister. Brings ease and comfort while it is being rubbed on!

Musterole is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Millions of jars are used annually for bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruised chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

THE ONLOOKER

It isn't often that we are invited to go along for an auto ride so when Mr. Woodin dropped into the sanctum on Saturday morning and suggested that we go along to Houtzdale to witness the cinema "Civilization" we were overjoyed and followed the suggestion by acknowledging that we would like to go which of course brought a sure enough invitation and we went.

To begin with J. Clark Boyer, of theatrical fame and infamy gave orders to embark at twelve meridian so all the crowd did without their dinner and were on the job at the set time. That is, all but Boyer. He showed up about one o'clock and after being soundly berated we got under way to see Civilization in Houtzdale, the last place on earth we would expect to find it.

Talk about roads. Right now we are in favor of a big bond issue for public roads. Enough for the roads. Tire troubles come next. The blooming thing had to blow up right on top of a windy hill and in zero weather at that. When Russell Shaw hopped out and tried to tell us there were two down instead of one there was murder in the eyes of all. Woodin (the guy that puts the talent in home talent and is making a finished "Toastmaster" out of a football player) isn't "wooden" at all. He proved it by the way he jumped around in the middle of the road. He was frozen a little in the joints but had beautiful action.

"Civilization" is a wonderful creation. Small wonder that it is still playing to crowded houses in Philadelphia. Compared with "The Birth of a Nation" it is probably not so spectacular but in photography and art it excels marvelously. Many objected to the "Birth of a Nation" on account of its portrayal of characters. No one will find anything to condemn in "Civilization." It is a powerful sermon against war with God using the women of the nation as the means to teach the truth.

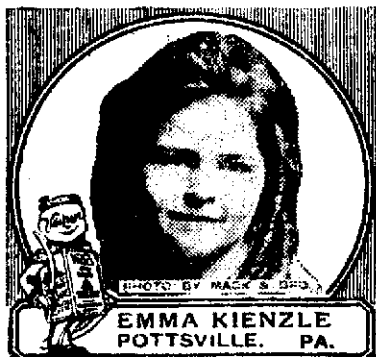

Pottsville Miss Prescribed For Dad When He Had Pneumonia

"Dad Daddy with Vick's 'Cause It Made Me Better, and It Will Make Him Better, Too," Said Little Emma Kienzle.

MR. KIENZLE IS WELL NOW.

When Mr. C. F. Kienzle, 81 Laurel St., Pottsville, Pa., was stricken with typhoid pneumonia, his little daughter immediately recommended the remedy that always relieved her colds. Her advice was good. For Mrs. Kienzle writes—"The doctor had little hopes for him but I kept right on using 'Vick's VapoRub Salve' was introduced from the South, chandler's Pharmacy presented Mrs. Kienzle with a jar, and requested that she give it a thorough trial. Mrs. Kienzle reported—

"At that time my little girl was suffering with a severe cold. Her head was closed and she could not breathe through her nostrils. She was tight on the chest and complained of her throat hurting her. We had been trying to doctor her up with cough syrups and tonics, but nothing seemed to break her cold. I rubbed a little Vick's VapoRub up her nostrils and made her inhale a little of it, and she had instant relief in the head. When I put her to bed I rubbed her chest and throat with a good thick application, and in the morning there was no trace of a cold."

Mothers will find Vick's VapoRub Salve a sure enough "Bodyguard in the home." Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00.

TO TRY PARCEL POST TO CUT LIVING COST

Pittsburgh, Jan. 15.—With $10,000 given by a retired merchant to back the test, post office officials and a number of citizens headed by Rabbi J. Leonard Levy were planning today to inaugurate a new plan for marketing by parcel post.

As outlined by Rabbi Levy to the Pittsburgh Association of Credit Men, the post office will provide books in which producers in rural districts may list their products, with prices and approximate parcel post charges for delivery to the customer here. Those desiring farm products, fruit and vegetables may consult the lists.

CLEARFIELD WOMAN HAS BAD FALL THIS MORNING

Could Have Been Avoided If Walks Had Been Cleaned

Powell's Hardware Store has Message For Residents who had Trouble Yesterday in Cleaning off their Walks.

The condition of the pavements all over the town has been responsible for many a fall since the rain of Saturday night. This can be avoided just as easily as not. We have a special ice and snow scraper made for just such sidewalk conditions as exist this morning.

It's a highly tempered blade mounted on a wrought iron socket with a good strong handle riveted into the socket. Will clean off your walk when the ordinary shovel only skims over the top and leaves the walk in a dangerous condition. Come in and get one before they are all gone. Wm. F. License Court Under Way hotel, objection was made and sustained. Accommodated 5,000 people and 1,000 horses. Don't allow treating. Prohibited list of fifteen to eighteen, four or five added this year.

Amos Hensal, applying for a brewery license at Madera, was the next applicant. Been in the business about one month. Principally local trade. Individual orders by mail accompanied by cash. Business last month was 152 barrels of beer. About one fourth to hotels. No samples furnished, but brewer takes a drink occasionally. Had not copy of rules of court governing sales. Miller & Harwick and J. B. McGrath, attorneys.

R. K. Jones, of Blue Ball, represented by W. H. Hagerty, was next called. Entertained 1500 to 1600 guests during year. No treating allowed. Receipts of house about $15 per day. Prohibited list of eight, two added the past year. Business increased the past year. Had 14 boarders.

Afternoon Session

When court convened at 1:15 following the noon recess Houtzdale borough was called.

J. M. Griffey was the first applicant on the stand. He was represented by W. A. Hagerty. Entertained from eight to ten guests per day. Been in business since June 1915. Prohibited list contained 23 names. Three added last year. Bar totaled $18,100 and the hotel end of it $5,417.20. Closed bar at 9 o'clock sharp. Had a scrap at his house in July last.

Attorney Swoope by his questions attempted to show that the state constable was called to quell the trouble but applicant denied this and stated that no arrests were made at his hotel. Did not allow treating.

Albert Kasbick, represented by John B. McGrath, was next on the list. His was a new application, the license being asked for the American House which was refused last year. This applicant speaks four languages and wanted a license so as to be able to cater to the foreign element in that region, and regardless of the high cost of living would charge but $1 per day. Lease of the building was contingent on the granting of a license at a rental to be fixed later.

Frank Swicks was called and questioned as to necessity of such hotel.

Smile! and the World Smiles With You!

An Old Saying That Has Been Proved by Every One of These Triangle Stars

They Are: Upper Row, Louise Fazenda, Bessie Love, Seena Owen; Lower Row, Alice Lake, Dorothy Dalton, Clara Williams.

There's a reason for every smile in the picture. Louise Fazenda has just signed a new Keystone contract. Bessie Love has heard that folks like her newest play, "The Heiress at Coffee Dan's." Seena Owen—well, Seena just smiles all day long. She's Mrs. George Walsh off the screen, and there's a very recent little addition to the Walsh family that would make any mother proud and happy. Alice Lake is getting some roles in Triangle comedies that would please an even more aspiring young comedienne than she. Dorothy Dalton and Clara Williams have been picked out by Thomas H. Ince for stellar roles in some of the highest plays that will be produced under his supervision during the year to come. So, as anybody can see, they are six very happy girls, and young Mr. 1917 looks good to them as they welcome him to an open page in their books of achievement.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a table-spoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and is almost tasteless.

UNITED STATES EXPECTS SIGNED TREATY FOR DANISH ISLES' PURCHASE

Washington, Jan. 15.—The treaty signed by the government of Denmark, agreeing to sell the Danish West Indies to Uncle Sam for $25,000,000 was expected to arrive at the state department from Copenhagen today. When Secretary Lansing has placed his signature on the document the islands, long coveted by Uncle Sam for a naval base site, will be, virtually, the property of the United States.

ON THE SCREEN

Edith Storey and Antonio Moreno in "THE SHOP GIRL"

Vitagraph Blue Ribbon Feature at the Globe Tomorrow (Tuesday)

Character clashes with caste. She is a shop girl, beneath him in social station, but in true blueness—his equal.

From the minute their eyes first met on shipboard, his sister seeks to separate them. But the opposition simply fans the flame of love the stronger, and although he loses her, he finds her again—and just in time to save her.

Jack Holt, Hero of "Liberty" in "THE BLACK SHEEP OF THE FAMILY"

At the Opera House Tomorrow, Matinee and Night

The story concerns four young people, a brother and a sister from two families, with two love affairs resulting. The parts are taken by Francisella Billington, Jack Holt, Paul Byron and Helen Leslie. Bert, played by Byron gambles away the fraternity funds at college and later is falsely suspected of the murder of a girl in a cabaret. His friend Kennel, played by Jack Holt, in love with Ester, tries to raise money to save Bert's honor, and when the graver crime is committed, still remains true to his friend.

A detective, named Collins plays an important role, and he also a rival for the hand of Ester. He comes to their aid only when Ester promises she will marry him if he clears her brother. The cast is an agreeable one and the story value strong.

After a Great Deal of Delay Financier Appears Before Probe Committee And Gives His Testimony

WITHHOLDS NAME OF CABINET MEMBER

Washington Jan. 15.—(By United Press)—Thomas W. Lawson told the house lead to Wall Street probe committee that Chairman Henry of the committee was the congressman who told him of the rumors regarding the leak of the president's note to belligerents.

Lawson then named Archibald S. White of the Guarantee Trust company of New York as the banker who had given him additional information.

Lawson's congressional informant he testified last week connected the name of a cabinet member and another high official with the leak.

Chairman Henry's first question called for a categorical answer as to the member of congress to whom Lawson had referred as telling him a cabinet member has been speculating. Lawson asked to be permitted to say a word before answering. "I think it is owing to me to say a few things that are necessary," The committee consulted briefly.

"When things are necessary. There will be other questions," said Henry. "You will have an opportunity then."

Lawson persisted in making an explanation and the committee did not interfere. He recounted who he had asked regarding President Sabin of the Guarantee Trust company.

"He was allowed to go without answering any question," Lawson said. He reiterated his plea of a few days ago that he did not want to give the name in public because the "situation is serious." He appealed to the committee to allow him to give the names in private.

Supreme Court Says Mann White Slave Act Is Valid

Applies In Cases of Non-Commercial Vice As Well As In Cases Where Girls Are Sold In Slavery

DRIGGS AND CAMMETTI CASE IS HEARD

Washington, Jan. 15.—(By United Press)—The Supreme court today held that the Mann White Slave law applied in the cases of noncommercial vice and is constitutional. This decision was reached in the cases of Maury I. Driggs, F. Drew Cammetti and L. F. Hays who were found guilty of violation of the law.

The question before the Supreme court was the constitutionality of the Mann act. Driggs and Cammetti were convicted on the charge of transporting Lola Norris and Marsha Warston to another state from their homes in California. According to their pleas the Mann law did not apply to noncommercial vice. L. F. Hays was convicted of transporting a girl from Oklahoma City to Wichita, Kansas. His appeal was based on a similar plea. The decision was barely reached. Justice Reynolds did not hear the cases as he was attorney general when the cases were up before the justices who heard the case. Justice White and Justices McKenna and Clark dissented. The case was one of the bitterest fought in the criminal history of this country.

Justice Day read the opinion. Congress, Justice Day said, plainly controls the passengers in international transportation and forbids the transportation of women for immoral purposes. The decision was an unusual long one.

SALE OF REVOLUTIONARY LETTERS

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 15.—Collectors of America are displaying a lively interest in the public sale of the confidential correspondence of Robert Morris, financier of the revolution, which is to begin in this city tomorrow. It is a collection of intimate descriptions made for the personal information and guidance of Mr. Morris by leading statesmen, military and naval authorities and other patriots, concerning various activities for the cause. Eighteen signers of the Declaration of Independence are represented in the collection.

Spannel, Who Shot Major Butler In Jealous Fit, Goes On Trial

Much Interest In Case In South Where Major Was Very Popular With Masses

San Angelo, Tex., Jan. 15.—Harry J. Spannel, who first said he was "glad" and later that he was "sorry," he shot his wife and Major M. C. Butler, U. S. A., to death as they rode through the streets of Alpine in an auto last July, went to trial for murder here today. Strong feeling against Spannel orbade his trial in Alpine.

Jealousy caused by the friendship between Mrs. Spannel and Major Butler is alleged to have led the former music teacher to murder both of them during an auto ride he had in-

POMONA GRANCE HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

Domestic Science Comes In For Discussion and is Ably Handled by Several Speakers

MANY RESOLUTIONS PASSED

Clearfield County Pomona Grange held its quarterly session in the Mechanics hall January 11th, morning, afternoon and evening.

The discussion of domestic science teaching, by the ladies, demonstrated their interest and ability to handle the subject. One speaker said that education is not complete without preparation in domestic science and the domestic life depends very much for its success upon the ability of wife and mother as a cook, housekeeper and home maker. Domestic science should be a connecting link between home and school.

Another said it should be taught above everything else. Some foolish mothers don't want their daughters taught to work. There are even cases where foolish girls profess to look down upon one that helps her mother in the kitchen.

Another speaker said that education must mean the ability to solve the problems of life as they come along.

"Our Goal for 1917," was discussed in a paper by Harrison Straw. Cooperation rather than competition; better organization and knowledge of what we want and then stick—that is, stick!

Resolutions were adopted against the state taking local roads out of the hands of supervisors; asking repeal of state sanitary law unless enforced for towns, cities and corporations, as well as for farmers; opposing the fish commission and fishing licenses; asking that increased taxes for state roads be levied on corporate property; that country children should have the same facilities for education as town or city children, and that taxation to make this possible should be state wide, because the life of the towns and cities is, in a great measure, kept up by country boys and girls; urging Congress to pass national prohibition laws. Also by unanimous rising vote, Judge Bell was asked to refuse to grant all licenses at the coming license court.

The evening session was mainly devoted to 5th degree work. Next meeting will be held at Curwensville, April 6th.

SOCIALIST SENT TO PRISON BY GERMANY

Well Known Leader Who Preaches Against War Finally Draws Four Years at Hard Labor

NO FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Yurick, Jan. 15.—Karl Liebknecht, German Socialist leader has been sentenced to four and a half years imprisonment at hard labor and excluded from the bar according to Berlin advices today.

Liebknecht has been in continued trouble with German authorities for his anti-war and socialist speeches both within and without the Reichstag.

The Yurick report is probably final and was given after an appeal by Liebknecht had been pending several months.

The charge on which Liebknecht was arrested was for his participation in an anti-war celebration in May 1916 and on June 28, he was sentenced to thirty months. Immediately he declared an appeal and was on August 23, sentenced to four years and one month. He again appealed and was refused.

Leitzinger robes, sale price on his suits $14.95 to $25.00. Regular prices $12.50 to $40.00.

EASTLAND SUITS BRING LEGAL TANGLE

Almost Four Hundred Suits For Damages Have Been Filed by Families Sustaining Loss

MAY TRY THEM ALL TOGETHER

Chicago, Jan. 15.—(By United Press)—Although more than a year and a half has elapsed since the picnic steamer Eastland turned turtle at her dock in the Chicago river here and snuffed out the lives of 812 men, women and children out for a holiday, compensation for their deaths has not been made and the suits growing out of the disaster today are in a bad legal tangle.

Surviving relatives of the 812 wage workers who met death on the Eastland are, in many instances, poor people who depended on the earnings of the victims of the disaster. Many of those have had a hard struggle to live since the ill-fated afternoon of July 24, 1915.

Interest in the situation today centers on the question of whether 373 suits for damages, in federal court, shall be consolidated and all tried at once, or tried separately. Federal Judge Bandis must tell the United States Supreme court today why he consolidated the cases and why he thinks they ought to be tried together.

Should the Supreme court order the cases tried separately, as the owners of the Eastland demand, it is estimated that the trials will last fifteen years, allowing a minimum of two weeks for each case. Surviving relatives of about 300 of the victims have not sued at all, while others have brought suit in Illinois state courts.

There is a bill before congress to give the United States court of claims jurisdiction in the cases. This would open the way for the surviving relatives of victims to make claim against the government. Many of them blame the government, through the Federal Steamboat Inspection service for the disaster, but as the government cannot be sued they have no way of recovering damages unless the court of claims is given jurisdiction.

License Court Under Way--Big Crowd In Attendance

Court Making a Record In Disposing Of Many Applications On The First Day of Promising Long Session

THE REAL BATTLES ARE YET TO COME

Old John Barleycorn lined up in the Clearfield county court this morning for a 90-round battle with the Clearfield County Dry Federation, and as the representatives of the contending forces came to the front before Judge Bell, the spectators crowding every nook and corner of the vast court room, straightway saw they were in to witness a gruelling battle.

From the looks of determination on the faces of the dry forces and their attorneys it was plainly evident that no quarter for the demon rum could be expected, while the license applicants and their sponsors, realizing the weak and tottering character of old Barleycorn in the public estimation following his recent knockout blow at the hands of the United States Supreme Court in the Webb-Kenyon decision and the generally accepted idea that about five years more would see the forces of rum driven to the extreme edges of the American continent and quietly pushed overboard for all time to come, appeared to realize the uphill task ahead of them and determined to do their very best toward showing the court that they were entitled to the privilege accorded by law, provided they met the necessary preliminary requirements and so conducted themselves and their business as to not violate that law in any particular, either spirit or letter.

According to the schedule arranged for hearing the different applications Brishin boro, Grampian boro, Osceola boro, Houtzdale boro, Ramey boro, Bigler township, Boggs township, Bradford township, Decatur township, Guilch township, Lawrence township and Woodward township were on the list for disposition first. The remonstrances from these districts totaled 250 men and 180 women, while there are twenty seven applicants for license interested.

Before taking up the list Judge Bell announced that in all cases of new applications he would limit the testimony to four witnesses on each side, while in cases where the necessity as to those now holding licenses were attacked but two witnesses for each side would be allowed. Judge Bell also directed that all briefs, remonstrances and petitions concerning license applications be filed with the Prothonotary for the use of the court in his investigation into the merits of the case. In all cases where violations of the law or alleged ample opportunity would be afforded for the fullest hearing and investigation. His Honor also stated that he could see no reason why the license court should take more than three or four days.

Grampian borough was first on the list. There were two applicants E. J. Smith and George McMullen. Mr. Smith had license last year.

Mr. McMullen was called to the witness stand and stated that he had kept his house open and had entertained from one thousand to twelve hundred guests. He had thirty names on his petition for license.

On cross examination Attorney Swoope had the witness admit that he had been convicted of violation of the liquor law some two years ago. The hotel register was produced and examined. The applicant ran an auto livery during the past year and was asked whether he had hauled young men under 21 from Grampian to DuBois at different times for the purpose of getting liquor. He testified that he never did so.

E. J. Smith was then called. He was asked concerning his bartender. Entertained thirteen people per day for last ten months. Constable visited his house regularly but never furnished him with a list of persons not to sell to. Didn't sell any bottles. Bar averaged $20 per day. Total $15 per day. Had to turn people away but once during year. Miller represented Smith.

A. A. Hagerly represented McMullen.

Amount of absence of witnesses in Grampian was continued until afternoon and Lawrence township was called.

Adna Hattenstein, of O'Shanter, was the only applicant. He said he had a license for 20 years. His register showed the entertainment of 1906 guests during the year and served 3853 meals. Had a prohibited list of 22. He was represented by Patterson & Patterson.

Guilch township came next. George Fox of Fox & Shuttleworth, of Jannsville, a new application for hotel license, was called. Said his house was 48x60, new building with steam heat, lights, etc. Said building was now occupied as a store. Will contain ten bedrooms, unfurnished and upstairs plastered. One other hotel in the place. Building not leased yet, but thought he could get it, as Shuttleworth now occupied building. House is not furnished for hotel and has no arrangement yet regarding same, but if license were granted would secure and furnish same. Had applied last year and was knocked out because of mistake in advertising. Village population of 1800 with 5500 in township. 100 houses built last five years. No remonstrance filed in this case. W. A. Hagerly represented this license.

Andrew Kozak, of Ginter, was next called. He has had four licenses. Had accommodated between seven and eight hundred during year. Bar runs $32 per day. From $85 to $90 on pay day. Had one married on prohibited list. One married on prohibited list. Had 12 bedrooms in same. Record was kept by himself and Judge Bell stated that he had no complaint concerning this license and this was due no doubt to the fact that he was on the job all the time and said if all landlords attended to their business like he did there would be much less trouble from the business. W. A. Hagerly represented him.

J. A. Goon, of Woodland, was next called. He said his bar averaged $30 22 per day since taking charge in May. Entertained 1495 guests since that time. Had prohibited list of 28 names. Had great deal of automobile trade during summer; never had any trouble. He was represented by W. A. Hagerly.

Bigler township was taken up and Ellis McCracken, Ben Alexander and Henry Bowser were then called. Patterson and Patterson represented the former and Miller & Hartwick the other two. Ellis McCracken was first called. He entertained guests during year. Averaged between $45 and $50 per day. Had prohibited list of 28 or 30. Added 20 past year since he took hold in January last. Didn't have much bottle trade.

Ben Alexander was next examined. Had been in business ten months. Had entertained 2000 guests and kept from 14 to 17 boarders. Had prohibited list of 26. Two had been taken off. No treating.

Henry Bowser when called said he entertained. Receipts averaged about $50. Bar $30 and hotel part $20. Prohibited list of 21. Added five during year. Didn't allow treating.

Frank Belin, of Smoke Run, was next called. He was represented by W. A. Hagerly. Entertained. Bar runs $18 to $20. Averages 5 to 6 meals per day. Prohibited list of eight or ten, three added this year. Twelve beds.

Edward Viebahn, also of Smoke Run was next examined. Patterson & Patterson represented this license. Receipts of bar $15 and house part $8 to $8 per day. Prohibited list contains 6 names. Said he was sold out by sheriff last year on account of no business, but wanted license again because town was improving; it was being opened. Saw no true, as but had made change for customers before making sales. When asked whether every man who came in paid for his own drink said he did not know.

Samuel Ricketts, of Jannsville, was called by his attorneys John B. McGrath and Miller & Hartwick. Said there were six or eight hundred in village. Bar averaged $24 per day; one third being from bottle trade. House averaged $5 or $7 per day, with a yearly net profit of $1600. When asked if he thought the house applied for by Fox & Shuttleworth was fit for

The following is clipped from the Curwensville Herald:

"The Herald does not ask charity from anybody. This paper does not expect people to patronize it solely because it is a 'home paper' but because it gives the home news as no other newspaper does."

Mr. Bixler has given utterance to the truth. No newspaper or any other institution of a commercial nature should expect charity and ask that favors be thrown their way unless they have earned the remuneration in this manner. Some business men think they are dispensing charity when to their own disadvantage they patronize to a small extent every business of a similar nature there is in the community. The editor of THE PROGRESS was born and raised in Bradford Township but he does not expect the Bradford Township farmers to bring in their pumpkins and other farm produce to carry him over the hard winter. He is doing his best to give his patrons a good, clean newsy paper and asks only the price of description in real cash. If he does not give them a paper that warrants the price it is only right and just that they stop the paper and if it comes to the worst he will apply to the County Commissioners and accept the charity provided for by the law.

THE PROGRESS believes with THE HERALD that they have real value to sell in their publications and will stand or fall along straight business lines.

In addition to giving the people of Curwensville the home news that town is decidedly better by virtue of having a weekly publication of recognized influence along whole home lines.

GLASS OF SALTS
CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulate them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood. In 24 hours they strain from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of hot water—you can't drink too much; also get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what become of your kidney trouble and backache.

KENTUCKY GOVERNOR SAVES
JUDGE AND A NEGRO

GOV. A. O. STANLEY

Governor A. O. Stanley of Kentucky hurried on a special train to Murray, Ky., when he learned the lives of the judge and the district attorney who had the case of a negro charged with murder postponed were in danger.

"I have come here to uphold law and order and protect this court with my life, if necessary," he told the mob in Murray.

HOUSEMAIDS' UNION PRESENT
DEMANDS TO HOUSEWIVES

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 15.—If housewives here have any maids by dinner time tonight they'll have to recognize the new housemaid's union and change their attitude radically. That's the flat. The maids say so. They said it in writing, too, when they presented their demands today.

The 100 charter members of this, the first domestics' union organized east of the Mississippi river, today demanded $20.00 to $25.00 a month for families of two; $25.00 to $30.00 a month for families of three or more. They demanded a 9 hour working day, one day off a week and time and half time for over time. They wanted good food and well lighted and ventilated rooms.

Not only that, but if children hector them and other unpleasantnesses arise in their daily work, they'll expect to be paid for it. They don't want to listen to too much family quarreling, either.

Disagreeable, unkind and inhumane employers will be put on the unfair list. The organization is to be extended to waitresses, chambermaids, cooks and scrubwomen.

RESURRECTED NEW YEAR
RESOLUTIONS

Horns, confetti, bells and all the other Happy New Year novelties have been tossed aside to the ash heap long ago, but how about the resolutions which looked so glittering and promising on January 1st? How about our vows to live better lives and make the world more beautiful because we existed? Have they, too, found rest in the rubbish heap?

You all made resolutions, I know. That's part of the game somehow, isn't it? Ever since I can remember I have made resolutions on New Year's. As a little child I made a number each year—one was not sufficient. But generally the week-end found them dead things in the dusky past.

This year, as before, I woke up on New Year's with a happy and strange feeling. I wondered for a moment what I was going to do that day that I was so happy. Then in a flash it came to me. It was New Year's, and I had prepared the most wonderful resolutions which I was, of course, going to put into practice for the first time that day.

It was a happy day—oh, so happy! And when I closed my eyes in sleep that night after Mother o' Mine had tucked me under the downy covers, I felt that I was going to be able to keep my resolutions all the year through.

The next day I was still victor. And so on for other days.

Then like a bomb it happened. The day had been unusually hard and my head ached as though it would break. Altogether everything seemed to go wrong, and—I broke my resolution!

The moment I failed in my resolve I was sorry, and all that the purring of my motor engine seemed to say on the way home was, "You've failed!—you've failed!"

By the time dinner was over and I had nestled at mother's feet in the living room, under the glow of our reading lamp, I was so depressed that I could not smile. And in this fact my resolution lay in pieces at my feet, for I had resolved to be glad no matter what happened—to smile no matter what discouraged me.

Mother o' Mine read my thoughts and asked me if I had ever stopped to think that tomorrow was another day, and that I could begin over again 364 times during the year if necessary.

Somehow I had never really looked at New Year resolutions that way before. But the next day I started again, and if I fail I'll begin still again and again.

Will you join me in making every day New Year's as far as resolutions go?

"WHEN DREAMS COME TRUE"

"When Dreams Come True," which has attained much popularity since it was first presented in New York and Chicago, where it ran for an entire season, will be presented here Friday evening at the Opera House.

"When Dreams Come True" is aptly described as a dainty musical comedy of youth, full of tuneful music and catchy songs, many of which will have no doubt already reached you on the wings of popularity. This is one of the best of its type of plays produced during recent seasons. It possesses that rarest of musical comedy virtues—a plot, with sustained interest, and a plenitude of wit and humor of a clean sort. It leaves one with a satisfied, pleased impression and a head full of new tunes.

A large and clever company of principals and a chorus of beautiful singing and dancing girls lend the proper air of youth to the performance. Seats on sale Wednesday.

Choice of Potatoes For The Home
Table and How To Sort Them

Washington, D. C., Jan. 15. — The following suggestions to housewives by home economics specialists of the U. S. department of agriculture are made in regard to the selection of potatoes for table use:

In purchasing potatoes for table purposes, the following points should be kept in mind: First, that smooth potatoes are more desirable than rough ones, because they are more easily prepared, and less loss is involved in the paring. Second, that tubers which have been exposed to light for any considerable period soon acquire a more or less acid taste; for this reason, newly harvested potatoes, if mature, are preferable for the winter's supply to those which have been kept for any considerable period under unsuitable conditions. Third, that very large potatoes are not especially desirable, partly on account of the greater length of time required to cook them uniformly, and partly because they are often very variable in texture. Fourth, a good potato should be firm and crisp when cut, and a thin cross section when held between the eye and the light should show a relatively uniform distribution of starch throughout its whole area, as opposed to a large, translucent, watery, central area which denotes a lack of starch in this portion of the tuber. The even distribution of starch insures greater uniformity in cooking and in texture of the flesh when cooked.

If a lot is not uniform, it is often worth while to sort them and use the large ones with roast meats, or at other times when the oven need not be especially heated, and save the small ones for occasions when quick cooking is more convenient. When the potatoes are very large, or time is pressing, it is often desirable to increase the surface exposed to the heat by cutting them in pieces before cooking, in spite of the fact that this slightly increases the amount of nutrients lost. If they are pared and cut into small cubes or thin slices, they will cook very quickly and may then be creamed, mashed or served in other ways.

THROUGH THE DARK VALLEY

Henry Stockbridge, an Estimable and Well Known Citizen of Curwensville Passes Away

For several weeks the death of Henry Stockbridge has been anticipated by his family and friends but the final end did not come until about seven o'clock Saturday morning, when those of the family gathered about his bedside saw with weeping eyes the vital spark of earthly life depart from its sepulcher.

Henry Stockbridge was born at Byron, Maine on March 5th, 1844, and had he lived until the incoming of March he would have been aged 73 years. Becoming an orphan at an early age, he was reared and educated by an uncle named Cobb, of Lewiston, Me., and lived with that family until reaching young manhood. While yet a young man he left his native state and came to Pennsylvania, stopping in Pittsburgh long enough to take a business course at one of the colleges in that city. He taught several terms of school after that period, and finally came to Philadelphia where he made his home until he came to Curwensville in about 1882. He chose for his help-mate in life a Philadelphia young lady, a Miss Mary A. Waite, whom he married on November 23rd, 1871 and who survives him.

Deceased was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting in Battery A, Seventh Maine regiment of volunteers, October 3rd, 1864, and served his country faithfully until his muster out of service at the end of the war on June 21st, 1865. He was a man who never talked a great deal about war or his record, and for that reason never affiliated with any war veteran societies.

When he came to Curwensville he was employed as a lumber salesman for Samuel Arnold and remained with him until he took a similar position with Hoover, Hughes & Co., who had a large saw mill here at that time. When the mill was removed from here he severed his connection with that company and entered the lumber and feed business for himself, which he carried on for a number of years or until his health forbade his continuance in that line of trade.

About a year or more ago, he became

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use "Grandma's Sage Tea" and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will know

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this wonderful mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out of date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well known druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

came afflicted with cancer of the throat, which was the direct cause of his death. He had two operations, seeking relief, one in 1915 and the other in 1916, but without avail in a curative sense. For sixteen long weeks he lay about suffering untold agony at times, when the end approached was ready and willing to go. He was a member of no church, although broad minded on religious affairs, but it is not every one who cries "Lord, Lord," the loudest that is saved and the moral life he lived, following the golden rule, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you," leaves no doubt in the mind but that his soul reached the mansion on high safely. It can be truly said of him that he was a faithful husband and a good father.

Those who survive him are his sorrowing widow and the following children: Fred B., of Pittsburgh; Mrs. J. F. Broome, of Millersburg; Charlie of Gary, Indiana; Edward, of Rossiter, W. B. Annerman, of this place, all of whom were in attendance at the funeral. (Max, another son died on October 20th, 1906.)

The funeral was held from the home on South Side on Monday (today) afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Max Lantz of the M. E. church officiating as principal, assisted by Rev. Cooke, who offered the prayer. Interment in Oak Hill cemetery.

SPATS

Spats are short violent affairs indulged in by some human beings and most lovers.

They don't amount to much in either case, but they're awful while they last.

Spats usually reach from the ankles to the instep and from the front door to the gate.

They are worn just under the calf and over the protest of every right thinking person.

Some folks naturally have big feet. Others wear pink spats. (Thanks, Kin.)

Baldness can't be helped and stuttering may be condoned, but spats are a man's own fault. (Thanks, George.)

THE ONLOOKER

It isn't often that we are invited to go along for an auto ride so when Mr. Woodin dropped into the sanctum on Saturday morning and suggested that we go along to Houtzdale to witness the cinema "Civilization" we were overjoyed and followed the suggestion by acknowledging that we would like to go which of course brought a sure enough invitation and we went.

To begin with J. Clark Boyer, of theatrical fame and infamy gave orders to embark at twelve meridian so all the crowd did without their dinner and were on the job at the set time. That is, all but Boyer. He showed up about one o'clock and after being soundly berated we got under way to see Civilization in Houtzdale, the last place on earth we would expect to find it.

Talk about roads. Right now we are in favor of a big bond issue for public roads. Enough for the roads. Tire troubles come next. The blooming thing had to blow up right on top of a windy hill and in zero weather at that. When Russell Shaw hopped out and tried to tell us there were two down instead of one there was murder in the eyes of all. Woodin (the guy that puts the talent in home talent and is making a finished "Toastmaster" out of a football player) isn't "wooden" at all. He proved it by the way he jumped around in the middle of the road. He was frozen a little in the joints but had beautiful action.

"Civilization" is a wonderful creation. Small wonder that it is still playing to crowded houses in Philadelphia. Compared with "The Birth of a Nation" it is probably not so spectacular but in photography and art it excels marvelously. Many objected to the "Birth of a Nation" on account of its portrayal of characters. No one will find anything to condemn in "Civilization." It is a powerful sermon against war with God using the women of the nation as the means to teach the truth.

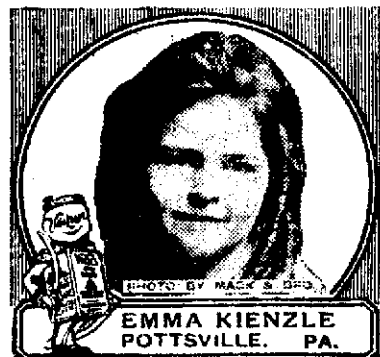

Pottsville Miss Prescribed For Dad When He Had Pneumonia

"Dad Daddy with Vick's 'Cause It Made Me Better, and It Will Make Him Better, Too," Said Little Emma Kienzle.

MR. KIENZLE IS WELL NOW.

When Mr. C. F. Kienzle, 81 Laurel St., Pottsville, Pa., was stricken with typhoid pneumonia, his little daughter immediately recommended the remedy that always relieved her colds. Her advice was good. For Mrs. Kienzle writes—"The doctor had little hopes for him but I kept right on using 'Vick's VapoRub Salve' was introduced from the South, chandler's Pharmacy presented Mrs. Kienzle with a jar, and requested that she give it a thorough trial. Mrs. Kienzle reported—

"At that time my little girl was suffering with a severe cold. Her head was closed and she could not breathe through her nostrils. She was tight on the chest and complained of her throat hurting her. We had been trying to doctor her up with cough syrups and tonics, but nothing seemed to break her cold. I rubbed a little Vick's VapoRub up her nostrils and made her inhale a little of it, and she had instant relief in the head. When I put her to bed I rubbed her chest and throat with a good thick application, and in the morning there was no trace of a cold."

Mothers will find Vick's VapoRub Salve a sure enough "Bodyguard in the home." Three sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00.

CLEARFIELD WOMAN HAS BAD FALL THIS MORNING

Could Have Been Avoided If Walks Had Been Cleaned

Powell's Hardware Store has Message
For Residents who had Trouble Yesterday in Cleaning off their Walks.

The condition of the pavements all over the town has been responsible for many a fall since the rain of Saturday night. This can be avoided just as easy as not. We have a special ice and snow scraper made for just such sidewalk conditions as exist this morning.

It's a highly tempered blade mounted on a wrought iron socket with a good strong handle riveted into the socket. Will clean off your walk when the ordinary shovel only skims over the top and leaves the walk in a dangerous condition. Come in and get one before they are all gone. Wm. F. hotel, objection was made and sustained. Accommodated 5,000 people and 1,000 horses. Don't allow treating. Prohibited list of fifteen to eighteen, four or five added this year.

Amos Hensal, applying for a brewery license at Madera, was the next applicant. Been in the business about one month. Principally local trade. Individual orders by mail accompanied by cash. Business last month was 152 barrels of beer. About one fourth to hotels. No samples furnished, but brewer takes a drink occasionally. Had not copy of rules of court governing sales. Miller & Harwick and J. B. McGrath, attorneys.

R. K. Jones, of Blue Ball, represented by W. H. Hagerty, was next called. Entertained 1500 to 1600 guests during year. No treating allowed. Receipts of house about $15 per day. Prohibited list of eight, two added the past year. Business increased the past year. Had 14 boarders.

Afternoon Session
When court convened at 1:15 following the noon recess Houtzdale borough was called.

J. M. Griffey was the first applicant on the stand. He was represented by W. A. Hagerty. Entertained from eight to ten guests per day. Been in business since June 1915. Prohibited list contained 23 names. Three added last year. Bar totaled $18,100 and the hotel end of it $5,417.20. Closed bar at 9 o'clock sharp. Had a scrap at his house in July last.

Attorney Swoope by his questions attempted to show that the state constable was called to quell the trouble but applicant denied this and stated that no arrests were made at his hotel. Did not allow treating.

Albert Kasbick, represented by John B. McGrath, was next on the list. His was a new application, the license being asked for the American House which was refused last year. This applicant speaks four languages and wanted a license so as to be able to cater to the foreign element in that region, and regardless of the high cost of living would charge but $1 per day. Lease of the building was contingent on the granting of a license at a rental to be fixed later.

Frank Swicks was called and questioned as to necessity of such hotel.

Smile! and the World Smiles With You!

An Old Saying That Has Been Proved by Every One of These Triangle Stars

They Are: Upper Row, Louise Fazenda, Bessie Love, Seena Owen; Lower Row, Alice Lake, Dorothy Dalton, Clara Williams.

There's a reason for every smile in the picture. Louise Fazenda has just signed a new Keystone contract. Bessie Love has heard that folks like her newest play, "The Heiress at Coffee Dan's." Seena Owen—well, Seena just smiles all day long. She's Mrs. George Walsh off the screen, and there's a very recent little addition to the Walsh family that would make any mother proud and happy. Alice Lake is getting some roles in Triangle comedies that would please an even more aspiring young comedienne than she. Dorothy Dalton and Clara Williams have been picked out by Thomas H. Ince for stellar roles in some of the highest plays that will be produced under his supervision during the year to come. So, as anybody can see, they are six very happy girls, and young Mr. 1917 looks good to them as they welcome him to an open page in their books of achievement.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside bath. It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a tablespoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and is almost tasteless.

UNITED STATES EXPECTS SIGNED TREATY FOR DANISH ISLES' PURCHASE

Washington, Jan. 15.—The treaty signed by the government of Denmark, agreeing to sell the Danish West Indies to Uncle Sam for $25,000,000 was expected to arrive at the state department from Copenhagen today. When Secretary Lansing has placed his signature on the document the islands, long coveted by Uncle Sam for a naval base site, will be, virtually, the property of the United States.

Character clashes with caste. She is a shop girl, beneath him in social station, but in true blueness—his equal.

From the minute their eyes first met on shipboard, his sister seeks to separate them. But the opposition simply fans the flame of love the stronger, and although he loses her, he finds her again—and just in time to save her.

Jack Holt, Hero of "Liberty" in
"THE BLACK SHEEP OF THE FAMILY"

At the Opera House Tomorrow, Matinee and Night

The story concerns four young people, a brother and a sister from two families, with two love affairs resulting. The parts are taken by Francis Billington, Jack Holt, Paul Byron and Helen Leslie. Bert, played by Byron gambles away the fraternity funds at college and later is falsely suspected of the murder of a girl in a cabaret. His friend Kennel, played by Jack Holt, in love with Ester, tries to raise money to save Bert's honor, and when the graver crime is committed, still remains true to his friend.

A detective, named Collins plays an important role, and he also a rival for the hand of Ester. He comes to their aid only when Ester promises she will marry him if he clears her brother. The cast is an agreeable one and the story value strong.
